

What kind of life will you have in the future?

- Will you be politically free to live as you choose?
- Will you have the economic freedom to make the most of the resources you earn?

Or will you be drowning in debt?

Impoverished by taxes and inflation?

Sent to fight in an unjust war?

Jailed for something that shouldn't be illegal?

Living in a totalitarian police state?

One thing's certain -- politics and government will affect your life whether you want them to or not! But being here now, you have a choice. Will you be another face in the passive, apathetic and uninformed crowd, or will you make more of your university experience than just going to classes and having fun? College students have historically been leaders in bringing about social and political change. What happens on campus can and does change the world! If you're ready to make a difference creating a better tomorrow for you and the people you care about -- even those you've never met! -- join us today in standing for freedom and justice for all!
