

WHO SHOULD GET TO SEE YOU LIKE THIS?

WHO SHOULD GET TO TOUCH YOU LIKE THIS?

If you choose not to have pornographic images of yourself taken by the government, your “alternative” is to receive an “enhanced” pat down. During this pat down government employees will be allowed to touch your genitals and breasts. If you are wearing baggy leggings, TSA agents are authorized to literally put their hands down your pants, groping your buttocks and genitalia. These actions are criminal, it does not matter whether someone works for the government or not, nobody should be allowed to touch us in these places. Speaking of criminals, the TSA does not perform adequate background checks, and several of its employees have been verified as registered sex offenders. Who do you want touching yourself and your children?

WHAT ARE THE HEALTH RISKS?

BackScatter X-Ray images deliver high doses of low wavelength radiation to your entire body, including your head, and the highest level of radiation is directed on your skin. Sunscreen isn't just for the beach anymore. According to a doctor at John Hopkins University, the same institution which TSA claims verified the RapiScans' safety, BackScatter X-Ray machines do increase the risk of skin cancer (see picture above) significantly. In light of the number of fliers in America, especially frequent fliers such as pilots, flight attendants and more, skin cancer from these scanners is statistically assured. These risks are multiplied for young children, pregnant women, and the elderly. Don't allow yourself or your loved ones to be exposed to harm.

If Government Employees are not on your list of people you think should get to see you like this, choose to OPT OUT. The New BackScatter X-Ray scanners, “RapiScan”, produce these images of you as you are processed through “Security”. The people who see these images have the ability to store and send them to other computers. In Florida, one RapiScan operator stored thousands of naked scanned images on his personal computer. Do not allow yourself or your loved ones to have their bodies violated by the government.

WHO TOOK AWAY YOUR 4TH AMMENDMENT RIGHTS?

The Constitution protects us from unlawful search and seizure. TSA claims that it has a mandate from Congress to take naked images of our body and to touch our genitals and breasts, but obviously this is not true. Congress gets its mandate from US, and we did not ask for this. Even if it were true, Congress does not have the authority to grant an executive department unconstitutional powers, they would have to amend the constitution first. Don't allow your constitutional rights to be broken! Protect yourself and your loved one's from the TSA's illegal and unethical practices. You are a consumer, an American citizen, and a HUMAN BEING. You pay taxes, the TSA, if it should even exist, ought to serve and protect you, not grope, probe and abuse you!

WHAT CAN YOU DO? DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THE NEW "SECURITY" MEASURES?

DO NOT COMPLY WITH TSA'S NEW INVASIVE PROCEDURES!

Choose to "Opt Out". Show the TSA that you will not comply. Receive the "heavy pat down". Do not choose to go into the back room. Make them perform the procedure in plain view of everyone. Let the TSA agent know how you feel. Ask them how they can live with themselves being a willing accomplice to these illegal actions.

INFORM YOURSELF!

The information in this brochure is only the tip of the iceberg, and this issue is only one of many. The Internet is your best resource. Mainstream Media is not covering this story, just as it is ignoring many others. Ask yourself why that is? Simply Googling can provide many valuable information resources that will in turn lead to many more.
